

Mind-field

a communication method

The mind is what makes our human race, humanity a specie which can act with intelligence.

Every human from birth on learns how to act in life in a good manner. Accepted by the surrounding because behaviour is predictable and logical.

When we attend to school we learn how to solve problems, how fulfill a job with a certain scheme of actions.

In the mind we think of all things necessary for life. We think to create and change our lifestyle.

We learn how to remember, thinking of the past and seeing again what we experienced earlier.

We think of unexisiting things. the fantasies.

But there is more than only our own thoughts. There is more than thinking and just holding it for ourselves.

When a mind an think as part of a mindfield it has a method of communication.

Imagine that you think something and could send it to someone you love. or as part of your job.

The mind field is a sphere around the world. Connecting everyone in the mind.

When we learn to send mind-messages to that sphere there is a ability to create the collective mind, or mindfield. With every thought sent to there the muscle of the mindfield grows.

And when that muscle is strong, the mind field can be used by all. with all puposes imaginable.
